Live to Laugh About It.

Getting screened for colorectal cancer is easier than you think.

A colorectal cancer screen provides peace of mind and lifesaving information.
Now that's a reason to smile.

Colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of cancer-related death.
It doesn't have to be. If caught early, it is among the most curable cancers.

Get screened if you are over 50.

Do not wait for symptoms to occur. Your doctor will tell you whether a simple at-home test or a colonoscopy is appropriate.
Financial help may be available.

Screening for colorectal cancer can save your life.
